

Motion to Set Aside Default Judgment

Instructions: A defendant may file a motion to set aside a default judgment no later than 14 days after the judgment was signed. The defendant must serve the plaintiff with a copy of the motion no later than the next business day. For good cause, the court may set aside the default judgment and set the case for trial. If the judge has not ruled, the motion is denied at 5:00 p.m. on the 21st day after the date the judgment was signed. Rule 505.3
